

Resources for Parents of Addicted Teenagers

Partnership to End Addiction

Offers support, resources, and free coaching for parents of children struggling with addiction. Website: <https://drugfree.org>

Al-Anon Family Groups

Provides a fellowship and support network for families and friends of people with substance use disorders. Website: <https://al-anon.org>

The Addict's Mom

A support group specifically for mothers of addicted children, offering online communities and resources. Website: <https://addictsmom.com>

Peace in the Storm Coaching

Faith-based coaching for parents of addicted teens, offering practical strategies, hope, and community support. Website: guymichaels.net

NIDA for Parents

Educational materials, tips, and scientific insights provided by the National Institute on Drug Abuse. Website: <https://nida.nih.gov>

Substance Abuse and Mental Health Services Administration (SAMHSA)

Helpline, treatment locator, and educational tools. Helpline: 1-800-662-HELP (4357). Website: <https://samhsa.gov>

Teen Challenge USA

Faith-based residential recovery programs for teens and young adults. Website: <https://teenchallengeusa.org>

Books for Parents

"Beautiful Boy" by David Sheff and "Beyond Addiction" by Jeffrey Foote offer insights, stories, and guidance for parents.